What Is SEA Lecture Hall?

The Southeast Asia Lecture Hall is a program that aims to provide world-class lectures by leading academics and experts in their fields to students and youths across Southeast Asia.

The program was conceived against the backdrop of the gaps in access to high quality lectures in regions such as Southeast Asia. FPCI has initiated this program to promote closer links and intellectual exchange between Southeast Asian students and academics, who will become one of the most strategic segments of society to carry ASEAN in the future.

Lectures

The lectures will last between 90 minutes to 2 hours long, covering various fields such as:

political science, international relations,
international economics, business,
regional architecture, security studies,
environment studies, etc.

Participants

Participation in this program will be free of charge, open for students based in Southeast Asia, and all classes will take place virtually once every 3 weeks starting from August 2021 until March 2022. All participants will be given e-certificates for joining!
