Bachelor of Arts in
Humanities and Sustainability
(International Program)

BA Humanities and Sustainability (BAHS) program has been designed with a belief in human potential, potential that can be discovered and managed for future uses. Unlike other BA programs in the humanities and arts faculties in Thailand, which limit expertise to specific areas, the BAHS program equips students with a breadth of knowledge in the human arts and sciences. This knowledge allows them to explore, mix and match, and develop their own unique academic and professional skill sets.

In the program, we equip students with a breadth of knowledge in the human arts and sciences, as well as allow them to discover their specific interest and unique skill. The program adopts the open-curriculum style similar to many liberal arts schools, which means that students can customize their study to discover their passion and develop that passion to become their professional skills.
